Just a note to let you know I have given up on getting either the helmet I paid for or my money back. I will, however, be spreading the names Mark Raynes, Sports Equipment Extreme and MRF around to all my significant list of riding friends and event organizers.. And if I ever run across you again in my travels Mark, I promise to take my $49.20 worth in satisfaction...

Hi Candy (or Kandy or Candi or Kandie or.....)

You left a message about a helmet I ordered at Vegas BikeFest.. I wish I could remember exactly what it looks like. It is not in the catalog we picked up at the booth (leatherup.com) and I didn't find it on that web site either.. It is a shorty with an redish orange flame job and small skull or snarling set of teeth on the crown in the flames.. I think the base color was black. Size large I believe. The guy in the booth told me he had all this but I guess it didn't get passed on to you.

There is no rush on it. If you have a place I could look at more pic's or you can send me some of those that are similar maybe I can pick it out..

This is my email and my shipping address is:
